Chapter 1 by Aaron Hartmann

What would happen if you gave an Oreo to a bear?

Chapter 2 by Phantim

Can you really ask this question and expect an answer? Just one answer?

There are so many variable involved I couldn't even begin to tell you all of them. Is is a North American Black Bear? A Koala Bear(Though they are not technically a bear)? An Alpine Grizzly? A Sun-Bear? A Panda Bear?

For sake of argument let's just go with Panda Bear because for all intents and purposes they are the same colors as an Oreo Cookie.

For the sake of this question let us also assume that we are dealing with the original Oreo. Not double stuff, not vanilla, not Chocholate Chocholate, or Neopolitan Oreos. Just ORIGINAL OREOs. Get it? Got it? Good.

Now that we have at least gotten some ground rules, let us move on...

Chapter 4 by Aaron Hartmann

Nah man, I don't think a Panda Bear would eat you.

Chapter 5 by silverscreen

But it might squish you, and then fall asleep on top of you after eating the oreo. In which case, you could die from suffocation.

Chapter 6 by Kristine

If this world is an ad, then the bear would probably dance with loud music that just appeared from nowhere and sing and the eyes would have hearts with oreos in it.

Chapter 7 by jarv bavouset

The bear would most likely get sick from the chocolate and die. Then again it might not even eat the Oreo. It would just get angry and chase you.

Chapter 8 by Aaron Hartmann

I saw this one video where this Panda climbed up a pole and fell off, poor panda.
